- Thesis

* Title	Does gender diversity promote productivity
* Type	Thesis Project
* Abstract	The purpose of the study is to study whether gender diversity in management boosts productivity in workplaces. In other words, I will look into how the increasing share of female managers in Korean workplaces has affected their productivity over the decades.

- Capstone

* Title	A Study on the Smart Metering of Pipeline in Small Block System by Monitoring
* Type	Capstone Project
* Abstract	Smart metering of pipelines in small blocks is an optimal operational technology, can make the leak area narrower and help detect rapid leaks to monitor approximate real-time data of flow and pressure, an alternative to chronic manpower shortages. Finally, it contributes to smart work on local waterworks by working efficiently.

- SRP

* Title	Tourism Growth and Job Creation
* Type	Supervised Research Project
* Abstract	The results of the study will draw attention from policymakers of the Ministry of Information, Culture and Tourism, in particular, and contribute to their knowledge of measures that can be used to promote tourism and job growth and what role the tourism industry plays in creating jobs in South Korea.

- Academic ELP

* Title	Securing Safety at the Airport
* Type	Academic ELP
* Abstract	Airport authorities have recently claimed that the safety management system is already set up an airport in South Korea, but they try to prove it based on flight risk reports measured by the airport to check the airport's safety due to complex causes and numerous accidents.

- Essay ELP

* Title	What I can learn from other cultures
* Type	Essay ELP
* Abstract	I will learn the American way of education and the way of thinking. I will also learn the pros and cons of coming with it. I am planning to take a vacation and experience various cultures. We will look for things to learn in various fields, including government agencies, transportation means, and the environment.

- Advanced ELP

* Title	A Case Study on the Conflict between the Implementation and Development of the National Pension System
* Type	Advanced ELP
* Abstract	The National Pension Service has been a case of many conflicts as a law related to the retirement of the people, and there have been many public protests as well as celebrity status. Research on such conflict cases is also expected to examine problems in the communication with the public.

This is to confirm that you read/understood the following information.

- KDI School strongly recommends that students select advising professors from KDI School's tenure-track faculty members as it may be difficult to receive guidance and arrange meetings with visiting/adjunct professors.
- By choosing a visiting/adjunct as your advising professor, you are agreeing to the fact that there may be constraints and disadvantages in terms of meeting and contacting your professor.

After reading the above information, please click on the 'Confirmation' button.
