Schools for Children

Students, Professionals, and scholars at UC San Diego may enroll their children (ages 5-18) at no cost in San Diego's outstanding public schools. The location of your home in San Diego determines which public elementary, middle, or high school the child may attend.

Below are steps to finding a school for your child:

Step 1

- Find a home that you like, then find out the exact address of the home. Enter address into school finder: https://www.sandiegounified.org/schools/school_finder

Step 2

- Find out details about the school by entering name of school here: <https://www.greatschools.org/>

Step 3

- Decide if you like the school. If not, look for housing in a different school boundary. Or you can find a different school that you do like, then look for housing based on the San Diego Unified boundary maps.

Students from Doyle Elementary enjoy a school field trip to the San Diego County Fair
